

Who Should Be Dating Whom in 2007?

Despite high profile relationships with Brad Pitt and Vince Vaughn, Jennifer Aniston deep down values privacy. But humor is also very important to her. Perhaps John Cusack is her man. "We want to see him with someone who's an equally nice girl," said April Masini, author of the "Ask April" advice column and "Think & Date Like a Man." "She also needs someone who stays under the radar, and that's Cusack."
